Yung Shue Wan Main Street

Although it's just half an hour from Hong Kong's hectic heart, you'd be forgiven for thinking that the gods have hit the slo-mo button when you step off the ferry. People walk slowly along Yung Shue Wan Main Street; a narrow but lively thoroughfare on Lamma Island.

Wind Power Plant

Wind Power Plant is the first commercially operated device by Hong Kong Electric. It includes an exhibition centre providing interesting information for this wind power plant as well as recycled energies in Hong Kong and elsewhere.

Hung Sing Yeh Beach

Hung Sing Yeh Beach is a popular place for swimming and barbecue activities. It is well equipped for toilets, shower and changing rooms for the visitors.

Kite-Flying

With monsoon winds from the north or the south at different times of the year, Lamma Island is a popular spot for kite flying activities. Visitors can participate such hobby activity and compete with the locals!

Lamma Island Seafood

Lamma Island is surrounded by the deep blue sea and is traditionally inhabited by fishermen. Delicious seafood meals can be served for the visitors.

Kin Hin Tofu Dessert

Tofu Dessert is a famous delicacy for visitors who come by this traditional food stall which is managed by an old lady.

Sok Kwu Wan

Sok Kwu Wan is hilly and is a good place for hikers. Lo So Shing Beach is just as good as Hung Shing Yeh Beach: fine sand with clear water. If swimming is not your cup of tea, go try fishing at Fish Spawning Grounds
